

The other two sheets in this spreadsheet are designed for counties who do not wish to use the INPCMS forfeiture module* or who do not wish to grant INPCMS access to contracted counsel. Counties who use the INPCMS forfeiture module will be able to generate a report with data that is entered into this form and they will not have to provide a report to the IPAC pursuant to I.C. § 34-24-1-4.5. The IPAC will create the state wide report. Both the state and federal work sheets are designed to allow you to track each disposed forfeiture proceeding. A county may, if desired report only the totals from each column. Although the former U.S. Attorney General decided, as a matter of policy, to cease most federal adoptive forfeitures, it is possible that the policy will change in the future and there are some categories of criminal activity for which the federal government will still adopt a related forfeiture. Additionally, a prosecutor should report on any federal forfeiture proceedings initiated by the federal government that the prosecutor's office will share in.

* Counties who do not wish to use INPCMS as their criminal case management system are welcome to use INPCMS for forfeitures.

 Counties can grant access to the forfeiture module only so that contracted counsel would not have access to the criminal justice portions. Counties may also experience difficulty providing access to county servers for non-county employees. They will typically need VPN (virtual private network) accounts in order to access a county's server from a remote location.
